

Our quality of life in Indiana has been enhanced substantially since the restrictions on unsolicited sales calls have been put into place. My hope is that the federal government does not mandate any plan that requires less than Indiana's current laws.